

HEADTEACHER COMMENT OF THE WEEK

It was lovely to see children and staff in their pyjamas today as part of celebrating reading bedtime stories. Some of our older children have read to the younger children which was lovely to hear about. Our yoga sessions have started today with Y6 and Y3. The children all seemed lovely and relaxed during their sessions in the hall this morning. I'm also pleased to finally announce that from next week as part of topic lessons visitors will be allowed back into the academy, starting with a visit from an artist in residence to work with year 6 making bird boxes as part of their graduation project.

Eid Mubarak to all our families that have celebrated Eid over the last couple of days. I hope you enjoyed some lovely time together with your family.

Well done for the second week running to Mr Hussain and 6BH who were the weekly class attendance winners again with 98.95%. Keep up the good work 6BH! Please may I remind any families that have taken Friday 14 May off for Eid to let our Attendance Officer Mrs Busby know so that she can mark your child absent under religious observance rather than unauthorised absence. By doing this it won't affect their overall attendance.
