Celebrating differences

Year 2

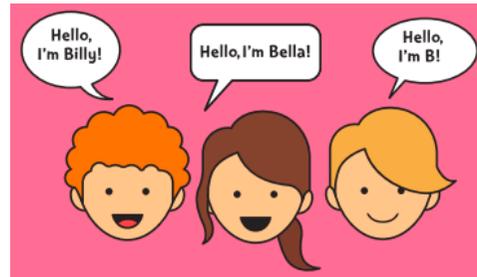

Social and Emotional Skills

- Understand how boys and girls are similar and feel good about it.
- Understand how boys and girls are different and accept that it is okay.
- Talk about how somebody who is being bullied would feel.
- Be kind to people who are being bullied.
- Understanding when and how to stand up to bullies.
- Knowing how to get help if I am being bullied.
- Understanding not to judge people for being different.
- Understanding that differences make us unique and special.

In this puzzle (unit), the children are starting to understand about 'stereotypes' and how people make assumptions about boys and girls. They are exploring how to help someone who is being bullied and recognising right actions/behaviours from wrong ones. The children will also learn that it is okay for people, friends and themselves to be different and to be able to celebrate those differences.

It's good to be different because . . .

Whole-school definition of PSHE

PSHE education helps pupils stay healthy, safe and prepared for life in modern Britain. It also helps them achieve their academic potential.
